Important message about your 2006 tax return

You may need to file an amended 2006 Form 1040X

We have received additional information from other sources (such as employers, financial institutions, etc.) that differs from the information you listed on your 2006 Form 1040.

What you need to do immediately

Review this notice and compare what you listed on your 2006 tax return to the amounts reported to the IRS by others.

If you agree with the information reported by other sources

- Complete an Amended U.S. Income Tax Return (Form 1040X) as soon as possible. Download Form 1040X and Instructions for Form 1040X from www.irs.gov, or call 1-800-829-3676 to request a copy.
- Send your completed 1040X to the same IRS address where you mailed your tax return. If you e-filed your tax return, you must mail a paper amended return. To find the correct mailing address, refer to the Instructions for Form 1040X.

If you don't agree with the information reported by other sources

- You don't need to respond to this notice.
- If you think your return is correct and there's a mistake in the information we received from other sources (employers, financial institutions, etc.), contact the sources directly to ask them to correct their records, as necessary.

Next Steps

- You should either file an amended return, or ask the other sources to correct their records.
- If you don't file an amended tax return or ask the other sources to correct their records, the errors will remain in your file, and you may continue to have similar reporting problems next year.
